MILITIA GETS A LARGE SUM

Government Sets Aside $91,245 For Michigan Troops

An allotment of $91,245 for the Michigan National Guard has been made by the secretary of war under the Dicks law.

Of this amount $1,132 is turned over to the state for immediate use and $90,113 is placed in the credit of Michigan in the treasury department. The Michigan guard increased in enlisted strength from 2,437 to 2,596 during the year 1912 despite the additional requirements of the organization.

The amount to be expended upon equipment and camp purposes is $4,000 for protection of rifle practice, $13,500 for ammunition, $17,524 for supplies, $12,741.

While the distribution of these funds among the different arms of the militia is entirely under the direction of the state authorities, the war department will recommend that as large a part as can be secured be used in equipping new cavalry, field artillery and other auxiliary troops.

Attention will be called to the fact that the strength of the militia is of highest importance in the opinion of the war department. That if the militia is to be of service in the country in the event of war, there should be an increase in the strength of its cavalry and field artillery.

RALLY AT SOUTH RANGE.

Dr. Blair and J. F. Hamblitt Address Large Audience.

A Republican rally was held at South Range in the Strimac hall last evening, a large audience attending to hear addresses by Dr. Blair and by Joseph F. Hamblitt. Both spoke on the Michigan situation and pointed out the fact that Michigan had absolutely no need of a Progressive party. L. Whitney Watkins, candidate of the third party for governor, was handed without gloves by the party speakers and his record gone into in detail. The crowd was enthusiastic and applauded strong points in the addresses frequently.

The Republican leaders are gathering their forces together for the last fight before election. Senator Townsend will come next week for an address at Hancock and other speakers will be brought in.

County Chairman Shields is working hard in the closing weeks of the campaign, and is daily sending out large bundles of campaign literature to different parts of the county for distribution. Over 15,000 pieces of campaign literature have been distributed so far and about as much more will be passed around in the closing week of the campaign. Every effort will be made to reach every voter in the county between now and Nov. 5 either by means of speeches or literature setting forth the principles of the party.

SCHOOL BONDING QUESTIONS ARE VOTED ON FAVORABLY

VOTERS GIVE APPROVAL OF PROPOSITION TO BOND FOR $50,000.

The proposal submitted to the voters of Portage township last evening at the special election to bond the township for $50,000 for the purpose of building three new schools in the district was carried by good majorities in every case.

The vote totaled 113 and was divided as follows:
For Huronville school, $18,000, yes 54, no 21.
For Dodgeville school, $17,000, yes 51, no 22.
For Otter Lake school, $14,000, yes 66, no 46.

The election was held under the direction of the board of education assisted by John G. Stone, who was selected by the voters present to represent them as provided by law. The election was held in the assembly hall of the Houghton high school.

HIGHS TO CALUMET.

Houghton Team Will Rely on Weight and Straight Football.

The Houghton high school football team will go to Calumet tomorrow to meet the Calumet highs in the last game of the season between these teams. Houghton has been working hard and has a fast team well versed in tricks and plays but it is doubtful if anything but straight football will be attempted. Houghton has a very heavy team and the coaches figure that their superior weight and speed will be an advantage. The team is figuring on a hard game with Hancock the following Saturday and will reserve their best plays until then.

Every member of the squad is up to his studies and will be able to get into the game Saturday. The following players will be taken to Calumet and all of them will probably figure in the game. Al. Marchon, Worthing, Geis, Briggs, Hooper, Cooper, Anderson, Daly, Gross, Penberthy, Bowden, Hollister and Penberthy.

MODES OF TRAVEL IN CYPRUS

Mules Largely Used, but They Are Frequently Too Inexpensive for Solid Comfort.

Famagusta.—At the time of the British occupation there was only one road in Cyprus, but in the present day one may travel in comparative comfort over the greater part of the island.

The roads have not reached the standard where motoring is a pleasure, and if one occasionally meets a string of camels sitting in the road, or the way is blocked by mules laden with enormous stocks of sweet smelling thyme, it but adds to the general picturesque quality of the scenery. There is one line of railway which stretches a distance of sixty-two miles, from the harbor of Famagusta up to Nicosia, the capital, and beyond to Marjoni.

Mules are used throughout the country, and the Cyprian mules are very fine specimens. It is the habit of the Cypriot to load his mule with all the paraphernalia that can possibly be induced to hold together, and then to seat himself on top and guide the animal by hitting it on the head with a stout walking stick or a pointed prod.

The chief disadvantage in riding mules is that the stirrups are not fixed and a sudden pressure on the right foot will send the left knee up to the rider's chin, depositing him suddenly on the ground. Some Cyprian mules have also a habit of planting both feet on the extreme edge of a precipice and stretching out their necks to look at the scene below. All things being considered, the nervous tourist would feel happier upon the mountain ponies, which are strong and surefooted.

And from this it will be seen that the means of transit are varied to suit all tastes. Camels, mules, ponies, carriages, motors, railways or coasting ship—what more could heart of visitors desire?

London.—The Earl of Liverpool, whose half-sister, Lady Constance Foljambe, killed a clergyman at the altar steps a year ago, but repented and married him some months later, has been appointed governor of the Dominion of New Zealand.

The Earl is the husband of the only daughter of Viscount Moneck of County Wicklow, Ireland. The couple are childless and the title probably will descend to the present holder's half-brother.

The new governor of New Zealand has estates in Lincolnshire and Nottinghamshire and is a keen sportsman. Hunting, shooting and cricket are his favorite recreations. He is a descendant of the half-brother of the second Earl of Liverpool, who was British Prime Minister from 1812 to 1827.

After the death of the third Earl the title lapsed and was not revived until a few years ago, when King Edward restored it to the Foljambe family in the person of the present Earl's father, Lord Hawkebury, Lord Steward of the royal household.

William E. Gladstone, it is said, wanted the title of Earl of Liverpool conferred on him and refused a peerage when he could not get that particular earldom.

The present Earl is aide-de-camp to Earl Cadogan when the latter was Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland. He served in the Boer war and was state steward and Lord Chamberlain to Lord Aberdeen when the latter was Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

Pittsburg.—A telephone system for the use of convicts is being installed in the Riverside penitentiary by Warden John Francis, who is known as the "convicts' friend."

Sky View. Wifey—There go the Browns in their new monoplane! Hubby—Are you sure it's the Browns? Wifey—Of course I am. I'd know the top of her hat anywhere.

HOUGHTON BREVITIES.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Goodell, who recently returned to Houghton from an extended European trip, left yesterday for Lansing where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. Schyler Seagar, and then go to Honolulu via San Francisco. They expect to be back in Houghton by next June.

The Masonic orders of Houghton have arranged for a series of dancing parties to be given in the Masonic hall this winter, the first one to be a Halloween party next Thursday evening.

The Misses Paul of Laurium will render "Sweet Spirit of Prayer" on the violin at Grace M. E. church Sunday evening.

The Vandal. Senator Dewey was deprecating at Saratoga certain contemplated changes in the constitution.

"To break up the venerable constitution like that," he said with a smile, "smacks of vandalism, and recalls Tom Turkin to my mind."

"Tom, traveling in Italy with a friend, said one day in Naples: 'Well, we've done Naples thoroughly—Aquarium and Arcade, Pompeii and Vesuvius. Let's get on to Florence.'"

"Oh, the deuce with Florence," his friend growled. "There's no life there, nor nothing."

"Look here," said Tom Turkin sternly, a man tours Europe for something a little bit more elevating than cafe life. I'm going to get a chunk of Michelangelo's famous statue of David for my souvenir collection."

Great economy of power is claimed for a system of canal towage, that is being experimented with in Germany in which the tow boat is supplied with electricity through trolley wheels that run on a submerged rail.

Cement water barrels used for fire protection on a railroad in the south show no loss of water except by evaporation.

Austria is soon to auction personal property of vanished Archduke John Salvator.

Real estate dealers of St. Louis will make an organized effort to secure more factories.
